

In the prison system in the U.S. the government is stealing money from the poor and giving to the right.
The U.S. loves you for your money; they don't care about you trying to take care of your family.